The Learning Key, Inc. and Otto Kroeger Associates
Offer a Philadelphia Area Myers-Briggs® Type Workshop
“Using Type in Coaching”

Washington Crossing, P.A. - The Learning Key, Inc., in partnership with Otto Kroeger Associates, is offering a Myers-Briggs® Type workshop, “Using Type in Coaching”, on September 29th at the corporate headquarters of The Learning Key, Inc. in Washington Crossing, Pennsylvania.

The workshop is designed for participants with some experience in coaching and Type who want to knit the two together. “Coaching is increasingly seen as an essential skill for both managers and consultants”, says Hile Rutledge of Otto Kroeger Associates. Let your instructor, an experienced executive coach, show you how Type knowledge can provide a unique and useful framework for the successful assessment, planning and implementation of a coaching program.

The Learning Key, Inc. has been transforming learning into action for technology-based organizations for over 18 years. The company provides business-based board games and simulations, training and instructional design. For information call 215-493-9641 or visit our website at www.thelearningkey.com.
